ADVERTISING TALKS

No. 10

If it were not for its suggestive powers retail adver-tising would not be nearly so profitable as it is. Merely ad-vertising your name and the class of goods in which you deal is not productive of good returns for the reason that there is wanting a definite suggestion.

If your competitor advertises and you do not, and he suggests a defiuite want to one of your customers, don't you suppose that customer will associate the idea of his want with your competitor's store? Of course he will. And you thereby are in danger of losing not only that particular sale, but other sales on that and subsequent days.

A Hundred Years Ago Today

In a linely Kantocky cabin, one cold and wintry night, anto an hamble pair, there cabills, to greatense bere and selitary he grew as to man's estate, and, in power of midd surroundings profound and selitary he grew as to man's estate, and, in power of mind and strength of body, developed the full flower of his individuality. In the time the world acclaimed him the greatest American since Washington, and the greatest and most heroic expanse of Human Liberty that has tood the earth for two thousand greatest and most heroic expanse of Human Liberty that has tood the earth for two thousand the second second rightful domination.

At twenty, on the Mississips's lordly boson, he telled at the ear for bread. At twenty-four the third was the same the same that the same the same at the same property four raing young legislator—at twenty-six he was an eloquent lawyer defending the cause of the weak and the oppressed. At thirty-seven he become a Congressman.

Then fame threw her mantle upon him—and step by step he rose to place and power, until at last in the government of a vast republic and in the affections of all mankind he stood alone and absolute.

stood alone and absolute.

It was there lived beneath the shies a Christian here of sincere and profound piety, a true champion of the Lord of Hosts, it was ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

He spoke softly, he thought fearlessly, but this fire Ilamed his heart.

To the cause of the great Common People he gave limitless allegiance, and nothing made him more indignant than legislative tyranny or usurpation of any kind, "He discumpturary laws and would not prescribe by statute what other men should eat and drink."
